II. Have you ever released a sky lantern? The sky lantern is a small hot air paper balloon, and the heat inside makes it rise into the air. Every year, Pingxi in New Taipei city holds the Chinese Lantern Festival on the fifteenth day of the first lunar month. During the festival, releasing sky lanterns is the most special of all. It's so popular with people from the island and even the foreigners. People write down their wishes on sky lanterns, light them, and let them go into the sky. They float through the night sky slowly. As the dark sky is full of bright lanterns, the beautiful sight really touches all people's heart.

But have you ever thought of the question, "Where do thousands of sky lanterns go at last?" They fall down and then turn into garbage. In fact, releasing sky lanterns isn't eco-friendly at all, and it's very dangerous to the road traffic, too. From TV news, some guys rode scooters near Pingxi and got tripped because of the falling sky lanterns. So, next time when you'd like to experience of the fun of releasing sky lanterns, please think twice.

The 58th US presidential election was on November 8, 2016. The surprising result made many experts' jaws drop because most of them thought Hillary Clinton had it in the bag. However, she only got 232 electoral votes, while Donald Trump won a total of 306 to become the 45th new man in the White House. Trump has gone from a businessman to the most powerful man in the world, and what he does and says in the next four years will carry a lot of weight worldwide.

The presidential election in the US has an interesting history. For example, every natural born citizen who is at least 35 years old and has lived in the US for more than 14 years is able to run for the US President. Also, the election is held on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November. That's because the US was once a farming nation where people went to church on Sundays and market on Wednesdays. Also, November was right after the harvest, and the weather wouldn't be as cold as in winter, making traveling to the voting centers less difficult. Besides, even though Hillary Clinton was the first woman to get nominated by a major party, she wasn't the first woman to run for the US President. The title goes to Victoria Woodhull, the leader of the women's suffrage movement, in 1872.

The right to vote is a must in democratic countries, and thanks to modern technology, even astronauts can send in their votes from space by e-mail. However, around six million Americans are not able to vote because they are criminals.

📖 presidential election 總統大選 electoral vote 選舉人票 citizen 公民 harvest 收成;收穫 nominate 提名 suffrage 選舉權 democratic 民主的 astronaut 太空人 criminal 罪犯

- () 8. What does " made many experts' jaws drop " most likely mean?
 (A) Made their jaws hurt. (B) Made their mouths closed.
 (C) Made them feel shocked. (D) Made them feel bored.

- () 9. According to the reading , which is NOT true?
 (A) Donald Trump is the 58th President of the US.
 (B) Hillary Clinton lost the US presidential election in 2016.
 (C) Electoral votes decide who the US president is , not people's votes.
 (D) The US election is held on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November.

- () 10. What is mentioned in the reading? 📖 mention 提及;提到
 (A) The US was not a farming nation before.
 (B) Astronauts can send in their votes from space.
 (C) No woman in the US ever ran for the president until Hillary Clinton.
 (D) In the US, everyone has the right to vote, no matter what.
